Raiders' Men Of The Week

Steve Lawson and Mike McCormick have scored again in being named for the second time, "Players of the Week" on the ACHS Raiders Team, Coach Jerry Robinson says that Steve had 10 unassisted tackles – most of them in the first half of Friday's Staunton River game. Reviewing the score (32-7), Robinson said, "Steve's a real RAIDER." Mike McCormick "did a fine job in defense," said the coach, with a half-dozen tackles. He picked up good yardage on reverses in cluth situations, said the coach—AND Mike make a touchdown, as well. Both players will receive a dinner at Maude's, compliments of the management.

'Progress At Arcadia'

BY Mrs. Franklin Litchford

Three weeks before school closed last year, the school board from Arcadia Academy in Concord, Va. asked Rev. Earnie Lucas if he would consider leading the school as Headmaster. At this time the school had only two teachers and only 23 students.

Progress began soon. Along with the duties as pastor, Mr. Lucas began hiring teachers and recruiting students. The small group set a goal of 50 students for 1970-71 school year. On Sept. 1st at 1:30 p.m., the first day of school, a mother and son came in to register for the fall term. This child was the one that enabled the school to reach their goal.

Teachers hired! The school has hired three new teachers to take care of the growth in the student body. Friends of the school and concerned indisidiuals have donated funds for the school, books for the Library, equipment for the kitchen, swings, baske ball goals, and other play ground equipment. Rev. Lucas stated that he would like to express his sincere thanks to the many merchants and individuals who made the overnight success of this school possible.

Gift For A Friend

Gifts come in all sizes, of course, but here's a rather unusual one – a 75 pound pumpkin grown by Mr. and Mrs. John Mann of Shipman (formerly of Appomattox.) The super-size-Halloween type pumplin is a gift for Dr. C. G. O'Brien. This isn't the only large pumpkin in the patch. The Manns say there are others – 60 to 75 pounds each.

J. A. Burke Supports Bond Issue

was the best answer to the problem.

It has been my observation over a experience over many years that when the people of Appomattox County come face to face with an urgent need in their school system, they have always risen to the occasion and met it.

Every citizen profits by a good school system whether they have children to attend or not. In times past many citizens of this county who had no children to attend, voted for more money for schools, or else we would not have the facilities we have at present. One cannot help his neighbor without helping himself and on the contrary, one cannot hurt his neighbor without hurting himself. You cannot cast a negative vote and expect positive results. No county is any better than its school system.

It is more important now than ever before that every boy and girl have the opportunity of a high school education. Without it, they are badly handicapped. We want them to have the very best facilities we can give them. When they have finished high school here, they have to go in competition with young people from other high schools throughout the state and if their schooling has not been up-to-date, they will be woefully handicapped by the keen competition.

The building of community colleges throughout Virginia offers a great opportunity to our young people and more and more of them will be taking advantage of it each year. We must see that they are properly prepared for further study and for whatever work or vocation they may undertake.

As a matter of fact, whether the new building program passes or fails to pass, we are going to have to pay for it. If it passes we will pay for it with a few extra dollars each year; if it fails, we pay for it in denied opportunities for our boys and girls and the further growth of Appomattox County.

Several years ago when one of the present big industries came to Lynchburg, I was told on good authority that the deciding factor as to where they would locate narrowed down between Lynchburg and a city in Pennsylvania. They decided on Lynchburg because of its educational facilities. Appomattox County needs and is seeking more industries.

I plan to go out to the polls on November 3 and vote for the senior high school and I hope you do the same.

I am also going to vote for Honorable Watkins M. Abbitt for Congress and Honorable Harry F. Byrd for the Senate, and I am sure you will.

Sincerely and respectfully yours,

J. A. BURKE

"Isolate Radicals", Says Abbitt

PETERSBURG, Oct. 20 –Representative Watkins M. Abbitt said today that the first order of business in America should be "an assurance that our citizens will be protected and that the government will assure its own protection".

The Congressman said he is concerned over many actions which have occurred in recent years which "tend to put the law-abiding citizen in somewhat lower priority in claiming the protection of his rights than is given to the man who has committed a crime or seeks to object to some policy of the government".

Speaking to the Petersburg Kiwanis Club, Abbitt assailed what he called "misdirected concern and over-emphasis regarding the status of those who flaunt our laws and belittle our institutions". In prior generations, he said, such offenders "were treated as they should be but today there are those who want to put them up on a pedestal". The law, Abbitt said, "should not be an intagible statement that can be ignored with impunity and obeyed by some and flaunted by others".

The public, he asserted, "is getting sick and tired of beatnik influences which make a mockery of our institutions. We have got to get away from the idea that dissent is something more noble than obedience to the law". The Congressman said he has been disturbed by statements by "supposedly - responsible leaders" who have encouraged young people to "lambaste their government and to take potshots at everything they don't like". He said that having the right to do this under a democratic system "does not mean that the right should be used as day-to-day license to object to everything that comes along".

He praised "the vast majority of our young people and law-abiding adults who are interested in building a better society". The small minority, he said, may "by their outlandish demands and stretching of freedom guarantees" someday come a revision of the rights which they abuse. "Those who are interested in keeping freedom of speech and freedom of action should take the forefront in isolating the radicals who care nothing about the future of our country except what they can get out of it", the Congressman said.

FELLOW VIRGINIANS. I NEED YOUR HELP.

"My dear fellow Virginians. As you know, I am seeking re-election to the U. S. Senate as an independent candidate.

Here is why I chose that unprecedented and difficult path.

Last February 21, a small group obtained control of the Democratic State Central Committee and imposed a new oath on candidates running for the U. S. Senate.

That new oath would have required me to pledge my support to whomever the Democratic National Convention might choose as its nominee for President in 1972.

No one knows who the convention will select in 1972. No one knows what that man's principles or policies will be.

I could not sign such an oath, and I would not sign such an oath.

The only oath that I am willing to take is to the 4,600,000 fellow Virginians whom I represent.

I have seen too much blind political partisanship in the government and in Congress. I submit this kind of partisanship is one reason that our country is in such deep trouble today.

So it seemed logical to me that I should submit my record to all the people of Virginia as an independent.

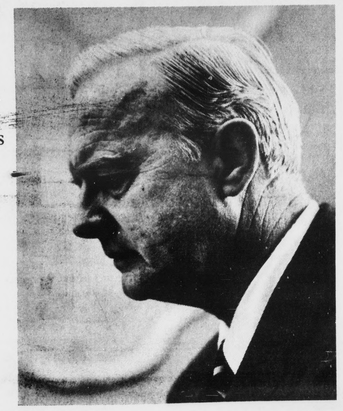
I realize full well that my course is a difficult and unprecedented one. But I welcome the opportunity to take my Senate record directly to all the people of Virginia.

I am independent in my position, but I am completely dependent on the people of Virginia themselves in my fight for re-election.

I need your help. Only with the help, support and activity of the individual citizen can we succeed on November 3rd.

If we—you and I—are successful on November 3rd, the people of Virginia will make American political history."

Harry F. Byrd, Jr.
United States Senator



Virginians for Byrd. George McMath, Chairman. Lewis Vaden, Treasurer.
